

Slayer Adventurer

---

Player Fantasy:

Players will experience the power system and fight a different type of opponents - monster or npc - that are difficult to challenge that player.

Players will deal with different strategies and set up to win different fights.

Players will be set as the one who got power by accidentally through an artificial object after the monster incident. Players will decide to join the Slayer Group and adventure throughout the world. This is set while the world still hasn't fully discovered the power yet. So, there is only ancient civilization and Slayer Group that have power in hold. Other people may not know the existence of the power but some may know.

Core Gameplay Loop:

Throughout the game, players will have freedom to explore the set of scenes and free to do anything in the game. There is no limit. In simple terms, open-world turn-based RPG.

Progression Loop:

There will be many skills the skill player must or should unlock throughout the game. Includes items, armor, npc and areas.

Combat:

The player display will be divided equal to members in the team. Same as the opponent. The menu will be more (lazy to draw) and the information will be more (lazy to draw again).

HP (Health Points) - Numerical states that determine how much damage until they die. The damage will be applied to armor first for 40% (maximum is 80%) and the rest will be applied to HP.

$$\text{Max HP} - \frac{HP + MP}{RP}$$

EP (Energy Point) - Numerical states that determine the power of a player. In simple terms, power stamina.

LP (Limit Point) - Numerical states that determine the EP. Calculate from the OAD and MP (Mental Point).

$$\frac{OAD + MP}{RP}$$

OAD (Overall Armor Durability) - Effect the HP.

$$\frac{A_1 + A_2 + A_3 + A_4}{4} + \text{Max HP}$$

OAB (Overall Artificial Buff) - The buff from artificial.

For damage:

$$\frac{\text{Items damage or Skill damage} + \text{Artificial buff}}{RP \text{ (Rating Point)}}$$

For HP:

$$\frac{\text{Max HP} + \text{Artificial buff}}{RP}$$

For Healing:

$$\frac{\text{Max HP} + \text{Artificial buff}}{1}$$

Then add all of them together to get an overall buff.

RP (Rating Point) - Determine as level.
